

County Challenged To Set Deadline For Assessment Project

A Monroe County school director last night challenged county commissioners to tell the public when they expect to have the new assessment system for Monroe completed.

Harry J. Drennan, Barrett school director and a member of the county school board, issued the challenge at a meeting of eight area school boards in East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Drennan—who was a pioneer in the move to equalize assessments before State law made equalization mandatory—spoke informally and as a sidelight to a twice-yearly dinner meeting of East Stroudsburg board and area boards sending tuition students to its school system.

The county board member rose to speak after discussion had centered on difficulties in school financing arising from radically different assessment percentages.

"I think it's time," Drennan said, "for us (school directors) to ask county commissioners and the board of assessors a few questions."

Biggest question on the proposed agenda, Drennan indicated, should be the matter of a "time limit" for the county's new assessment program.

"Commissioners have hired John Aicher, former Allentown resident, now living in Kunkletown, to take overall charge of the assessment equalization program demanded by law. Aicher has power to 'suggest' employees to assist him; commissioners do the hiring of aides."

(According to State law, passed in 1953, the assessment equalization work must be completed within five years of the date of the law.)

"If you are trying to build a house, you set an approximate date for its completion," Drennan said. "If you build a school, you set a time limit on construction. The same thing is true of all other kinds of work and projects."

"But, so far as I can learn, no time limit has been placed on the Monroe County assessment project," he continued.

Drennan also suggested that school directors ask commissioners about the proposed percentage ratio between assessments and market value of county property.

"In 1949," he said, "the total market value in Monroe County was 73 million. This total was assessed at 18 million dollars."

"In 1952 the market value had risen to 93 million dollars. The assessed valuation of Monroe County's real estate in that year was $19,900,000," the school director continued.

"It's time we asked county commissioners what percentage point they hope to arrive at in their final assessment proposal," Drennan said.

A lack of concrete information on what direction assessments may be taking is having a decided effect on township and borough school plans, Drennan continued.

"In 1945," he said, "you could plan pretty far ahead. You could at least get a five-year picture fairly clear in your mind. You had some idea of what you could do in the future, what plans you could make."

Now, he declared, school directors are "lucky if they can plan for one full year."

According to rumor, Drennan said, there may be "two local districts completed in the county's assessment study." If this is true, he said, "it will be a good five years before the project will be finished."

School costs, Drennan concluded, will not stand still while efforts are made to complete a five-year project. Action on assessed valuations, he said, is needed as soon as physically possible.

"These costs have risen 111 percent on the average," he said. "In some cases the rise has been much higher—ranging as high as 250 to 300 percent."

Living Costs Drop Second Month In Row

Washington (AP) — The nation's living costs declined two-thirds of one per cent between Feb. 15 and March 15, reaching the lowest point since last July.

This was reported yesterday by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which said lower food and clothing prices led the decline that brought the bureau's index down to 114.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

The March index was one-half of one per cent below the October (1953) peak when the index was 115.4. It was 114.7 last July, advanced to the record in October, declined in November and December, rose to 115.2 in January and dropped to 115.0 in February.

Retail prices were lower almost all down the line in March. Food declined four-tenths of one per cent, including most meats, bread, milk, eggs and potatoes.

Worker earnings, too, have come down somewhat. Average hourly pay of factory workers stayed at a near record of $1.79 in March. But because of fewer working hours, weekly earnings averaged $70.53, or 35 cents less than in January and $1.40 below a year earlier.

Graver Indicted In Gilhool Death

Wilkes-Barre (AP) — The Luzerne County grand jury yesterday returned an indictment of murder and involuntary manslaughter against Paul Graver, the 42-year-old Lehighman man held for the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy C. Gilhool at Harvey's Lake last December.

After the indictment was read, Graver was returned to Luzerne County Jail and held without bail. No date has been set for trial.

School Officials Explain Tuition Reimbursement Plan

East Stroudsburg school directors played host to board members from seven other area districts last night in the junior high school library.

Attending the meeting were directors from Smithfield, Middle Smithfield and Stroud Townships in Monroe County; Upper Mount Bethel and Portland in Northampton; Lehman and Porter in Pike County.

Featured speakers of the dinner meeting were Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent for Monroe, and R. Lloyd Jones, Pike County superintendent.

Sebring and Jones discussed a new State system of tuition reimbursement. Under the new system no State appropriation is paid to the "receiving" district.

All the appropriation will be made to the "sending" district—the area from which students come. In the past the State paid portions of its tuition reimbursement to the receiving district, such as East Stroudsburg.

The new system, the education officials agreed, will make little difference to districts with high reimbursement fractions. Those districts with low assessed valuation and reimbursement fractions will be hardest hit, they indicated.

In either case, the speakers said, it is the State which will gain under the new system. In some cases the new ruling may work a hardship on districts with low reimbursement fractions, Jones said.

State legislators, Jones continued, are presently "very pessimistic... about increasing costs of education." Most of the complaints, he said, center on past raises in teacher salaries.

"If we want to maintain our schools with good standards, however, we cannot hope to cut our teachers' salaries," Jones declared. Principal reason for this, he indicated, is that "nearly all young teachers, on graduation from college, can go across the border and start teaching at a salary of $3,600 per year."

Despite this all-important fact, the Pike superintendent noted, "the next legislature is going to be much more economy-minded" than have some in the past.

The school directors agreed to a school calendar for the 1954-55 school year, as submitted by Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of the borough system.

The meeting was begun at 6:45 p. m., with a dinner prepared and served by girls in the junior high school's homemaking department under supervision of Mrs. Ruth Thiesen.

Richard M. Nixon told newsmen here yesterday that when he left Washington Tuesday one of his daughters was coming down with the disease.

"Have you ever had the mumps?" he was asked.

"I don't know," he replied. "I'll have to ask my mother."

Nixon stopped here enroute to Chicago from Des Moines.

McCarthy's Charge Denied

Cole Fires Boss Of Home Repair Loan Insurance; Probers Told Of Big Profits

Washington (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration's boss of home repair loan insurance was fired yesterday as a Senate investigation turned to that phase of its housing scandal probe after hearing about a $500,000 profit on a $1,000 investment.

Latest to get the ax was Arthur J. Frenz, assistant housing commissioner in charge of Title I operations, the program that insures private lenders on home repair and improvement loans.

In announcing that Frenz was through as of yesterday, Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said he had "no evidence of any illegal activities" on the assistant commissioner's part, but gave no reason for the dismissal.

Frenz told newsmen he and his superiors had come to a "pleasant and friendly" parting of the ways. He said that up to now, FHA has had insufficient funds to do a thorough policing job on loan operations.

Frenz is the fifth official affected by a shakeup of the housing agency's top echelon since President Eisenhower started it off by "accepting" the resignation of Commissioner Guy T. O. Hollyday on April 12. Hollyday was asked to step aside while a free-swinging investigation of the agency's affairs was undertaken.

Cole predicted at the time there would be more firings, and possibly some criminal prosecutions, as a result of alleged laxity in the insuring of loans for home repairs and apartment house building.

Frenz had been with the home repair loan section since it started in 1934 and had been in charge of its operations since 1947.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, placed in a hearing record a list of hundreds of individuals and firms to whom lending institutions were advised not to extend government-insured home repair loans without special "precautions."

The story of big profits came from the construction of big apartment developments under the Emergency Housing Act that expired in 1950.

Capehart told of one Long Island N.Y. project involving a cash investment of $90,000 which returned a profit of $4,600,000 to three couples and their eight children.

He identified the project as Glen Oaks Village, in which he said 11 big apartment buildings were financed with insured mortgages totaling $24,353,000.

Capehart said the principal stockholders were George and Anna Gross.

14-Inch Trout Discredited As High Jumper But Minister Turns It Into Good Methodist

Just about the biggest fish story this side of the Alaska salmon runs popped into the open yesterday.

There was only one trouble. It didn't happen.

The way the story originally went, was this:

Rev. Harold Eaton, East Stroudsburg, a man with a consummate Springtime passion for the lure of the trout streams, went off with some friends to fish.

Rev. Eaton did his fishing in Bushkill stream. It's owned by the Easton Anglers Association.

Along toward late afternoon, Rev. Eaton pulled in the nicest trout a fisherman's heart could hope to see. Beautiful and shining like the glint of pure gold, the trout was of a variety to inspire sheer poetry.

Examination of the fish revealed a highly startling point of interest. Attached to a left gill was a filmstrip labeled No. "G."

There was also an address. Stewartville, N. J., the strip said.

Rev. Eaton, as he now recalls it, began to envision all kinds of heroic romantic and highly provocative theories on just how exactly Trout No. 6 could have gotten from Stewartville, N. J.

As it does to many a good thing, however, Time put an end to this monumental tale of fish struggle and heroism.

Along came a fellow member of Easton Anglers. He listened, patiently. Then he broke into a smile.

Sorry, fellows, he said. But this is what really happened.

Seems this gentleman, in an effort to find out how many fish

Rebel Troops Driven Back In Indochina

Hanoi, Indochina (AP) — The French Command announced last night Communist-led Vietminh troops were hammered back "with heavy losses" in their attempts to gain new footholds in the northwest corner of the Dien Bien Phu fortress.

Simultaneously, bombers, under temporarily clearing skies, struck heavily at the Vietminh forces entrenched upon a 200-foot hill on the southeastern rim of the bowl and "probably several companies" of the enemy were destroyed, the French said.

In the northwest, the French said their strong patrols succeeded in blocking up communications.

Stassen To Ask Aid For India Despite Ban

Washington (AP) — Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen said yesterday he will ask Congress to approve a 104-million-dollar aid program for India despite Prime Minister Nehru's refusal to let U. S. planes fly over his territory with battle-bound French troops en route to Indochina.

"We must respect differences of view between governments," Stassen said, "and carefully analyze the long-term struggle of which we are a part."

Stassen made the statement at his news conference shortly after a storm of protest over Nehru's action broke out on the Senate floor.

Nehru had told the Indian Parliament that it was that country's policy "not to allow any foreign troops to pass through or over India."

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee virtually challenged Stassen to justify any further American aid for India in view of that country's record of opposition to U. S. foreign policy.

Soviet Deserts To West On Murder Mission

Bonn, Germany (AP) — A Soviet Secret Police captain sent to West Germany to kill a Russian resistance leader has deserted to the West and barred some of the Kremlin's top secrets, including new type assassination weapons.

This was announced here yesterday by U. S. authorities, who said two veteran East German Communists and the Secret Police captain made up a three-man murder squad assigned to the killing of Georgi Sergeyevich Okolovich, a member of the anti-Soviet organization NTS in Frankfurt.

The captain is Nikolai Evgenyevich Khokhlov, 31, a staff officer of the Soviet MVD.

At a news conference arranged here by the U. S. State Department and the Central Intelligence Agency, Khokhlov said he was deterred from carrying out the slaying by a stirring appeal from his "wonderful wife." She remains in Moscow along with their 21-month-old son and his wife's 14-year-old sister.

Khokhlov appealed to the free world to save his family from what he said were certain Soviet reprisals, possibly death.

At his side as he spoke, was Okolovich, the man he was supposed to kill.

Khokhlov named as his East German assistants Hans Kukowitsch and Kurt Weber. They now are in protective custody at their own request, U. S. authorities said.

The three-man squad slipped into Germany from Switzerland following special training in Moscow. They were equipped with such weapons as specially silenced electrically fired pistols and devices which fire lead pellets containing cyanide poison from a dummy cigarette case. Western experts said nothing like them had been seen in the West before.

On arriving in Frankfurt last February, Khokhlov went directly to his intended victim Okolovich and told him of the plot.

Innocent People Aiding Commies, Hoover Contends

Washington (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover who said yesterday that everyone who has dared to expose the Communist threat has become the target of "experts in character assassination."

Hoover addressed the Daughters of the American Revolution at their annual convention. He received the DAR's award of merit for his long fight against subversive forces.

Hoover said that "one of the most unbelievable and explainable phenomena in the fight on Communism is the manner in which otherwise respectable, seemingly intelligent persons, perhaps unknowingly, aid the Communist cause more effectively than the Communists themselves."

"The pseudo liberal can be more destructive than the known Communist because of the esteem which his cloak of respectability invites."

Flying Boxcar Explodes, Burns

Pope Air Force Base, N. C. (AP) — A C119 Flying Boxcar with a crew of four exploded and crashed in flames late yesterday near Goldsboro in eastern North Carolina.

Air Force officers here said there were two known survivors and another reported survivor, with no word about the fourth man.

Another C119 flew over the wreckage and crewmen said they saw parachute silk on the ground.

Stevens Gives Lie To Claim He Tried To Protect Army

By Ed Cragh

Washington (AP) — Secretary of the Army Stevens gave the lie to Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) yesterday as the McCarthy-Pentagon row flared up into stormy hearings before a nationwide television audience.

The Army secretary first accused McCarthy and his chief aides of waging a "persistent, tireless" campaign—the most strenuous one in his official experience—to get special treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine.

The Schine case, Stevens declared, is "an example of the wrongful seeking of privilege, of the perversion of power."

Then Stevens labelled as "absolutely false" McCarthy's charge that Stevens urged him to "go after" the Navy and Air Force instead of looking for Communists in the Army's ranks.

"I never made any such statement," Stevens declared. And he denied, too, McCarthy's charge that he tried to use the Schine case as "blackmail."

And so ended, in the kind of direct conflict that can lead to perjury charges against somebody, the first day of hearings in the short-tempered atmosphere of an overcrowded, overheated hearing room—with TV floodlights glaring and spectators jammed together in a perspiring mass.

McCarthy got in some licks, too, even though he has removed himself from the Senate Investigations subcommittee for purposes of this inquiry.

He denied any "improper pressure" by himself or his staff on Schine's behalf.

And he bitterly objected to Stevens' speaking "for the Army." He blasted the Army secretary as one of the "Pentagon politicians" who are trying, he said, to block investigation of "Communism in the Army."

While Stevens' lips worked in speechless irritation, McCarthy said he knows plenty of Army people from privates to generals who want it understood that "Mr. Stevens speaks only for Mr. Stevens."

Mainly, though, it was the Army's day. The Pentagon officials embroiled with McCarthy were called on first to back up, if they could, their charge that McCarthy and aides Roy M. Cohn and Francis Carr sought by "improper means" to get favors for Schine.

Maj. Gen. Miles Reber was the lead-off witness. He testified that in 10 years of dealing with Congress he couldn't recall any "greater pressure" than McCarthy's office turned on to get a quick commission for the about-to-be-drafted Schine.

McCarthy was ready with a counter-attack. He demanded to know if it wasn't true Reber's brother, Sam, had been ousted from the State Department as a security risk.

Reber, former Army liaison man with Congress and now commander of U. S. Forces in Western Europe, replied that his brother retired at the age of 50 as he was entitled to by law. The general said he didn't know anything about any security case involving his brother.

McCarthy also contended Sam Reber made "vicious attacks" on Cohn and Schine when he was acting U. S. high commissioner for Germany and the subcommittee aides made a quick inspection trip there in 1953.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the subcommittee, at first ruled out this line of questioning on the ground it had nothing to do with the inquiry.

McCarthy fired back: "If I can't show bias and prejudice, it is a violation of every rule of law."

At the State Department, officials were asked about McCarthy's questions intimating that Sam Reber was removed as a security risk.

A department spokesman said only that records show Reber "voluntarily retired" after 27 years in

Soldier Under Treatment For Paralysis

A 24-year-old East Stroudsburg soldier is in an Army hospital in Korea under observation for paralysis of both legs, his parents learned this week.

The soldier, Pfc. Robert E. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee, 67 Brown St., said in a letter that he awoke the morning of April 12 and was unable to move his legs. Army doctors, he said, examined him for five hours and still are investigating to learn the cause of paralysis.

Pfc. Lee arrived in Korea last August. He has been in the Army about six years, his parents said. After attending East Stroudsburg High School the youth worked as a driver for McConnell's Taxi Service here.

He has asked that letters from home be addressed to: Pfc. Robert E. Lee, RA 13206420, A Btry, 981, FABN 40th, APO, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

1,000 Acres Of Woodland Destroyed In Seasons Worst Fire

Forest Fire Breaks Out Second Time

Over 1,000 acres of forest land between Henryville and Cresco were destroyed in Monroe County's worst woodland fire this season. The fire broke out Wednesday afternoon, was controlled 12 hours later, then erupted for a short period yesterday.

From the Stroudsburg office of E. C. Pyle, district forester, it was learned the major blaze which was fought by over 200 men and equipment from four fire companies had an abbreviated rebirth at 10:40 a.m. yesterday.

The blaze mushroomed out of three separate fires along the DL&W Railroad tracks at 1 p.m. Wednesday, according to Pyle. The fires merged, threatening six homes in the region south of Cresco and Mountainhome between the railroad tracks and Route 290.

Volunteers, joined by fire companies from Mount Pocono, Barrett, Northern Stroud and Buck Hill Falls, battled flames until 2:30 a.m. yesterday. By then the fiery brush was about brought under control, a Department of Forest and Waters official said.

Yesterday morning George Raish took off by plane at East Stroudsburg Airport and scouted the 1,000 acres for any recurrence of the fire. He returned about 9:30 a.m. saying no trace of smoke or fire could be seen.

Then an hour later, towers picked up small spirals of smoke twisting upwards from the scorched area. Raish returned to the air and directed fire fighters who swung into action almost immediately.

Two fires were started in the burned-out area: one along the secondary road from Cresco to Brinker's Crossing on Route 290, the other near Stiles Bridge, north of Ananokink.

Robert Bates of Northern Stroud Fire Co. and Frank Smith of Marshalls Creek directed fire fighters in the Stiles Bridge section.

Morris Reese and John Styke, both of Buck Hill, Harold Heydt of Paradise Falls and Forrest Evans of Cresco, forest inspector, combined to direct efforts in the northern blaze.

Raish said his aerial survey disclosed no homes damaged by the major blaze, although the fire ran close to the half dozen homes between Sam Henry's Crossing and Mountainhome.

A 20-acre fire on the Northampton-Carbon County line in Lehigh Gap burned throughout the night but was under control early in the afternoon, it was reported.

A small blaze was knocked down shortly after starting just north of Pen Argil on the Northampton-Monroe County line about noon, the district forester said.

Still another blaze, this one near Tobyhanna State Park, south of Sterling and north of Mount Pocono, was showing no life yesterday. That blaze started in the swamps Tuesday night, burned all day Wednesday and finally subsided that night.

Arion Award To Be Given At Concert

The "Arion Award"—given for outstanding contributions to the cause of instrumental music in Stroudsburg High School—will spark tonight's second "thank you" concert by the school band.

The award will be presented midway through the band's concert. It will occupy an honor position on the program, according to Mrs. M. S. Baldwin, president of the Music Parents League.

The band gave the first of its two concerts last night in the high school auditorium. Although the program was excellent, Mrs. Baldwin said, the turnout was somewhat less than had been expected.

"This is the most excellent band concert Stroudsburg High School has had in years," Mrs. Baldwin continued. "From the standpoint of versatility and unique arranging, the concert is certainly tops."

"It was wonderful of Mr. Pyle (John Pyle, the band conductor), and the members of the band to offer these appreciation concerts to the community completely without charge in the first place," Mrs. Baldwin continued.

"But appreciation works both ways. It's true that members of the Music Parents League have worked hard to help the band get its new uniforms," Mrs. Baldwin noted.

"But the band has worked doubly hard on this concert, during which the new uniforms are being shown for the first time. The program gives every evidence of long and painstaking work and rehearsals."

"The residents of Stroudsburg—especially parents with students in the local school—have a great interest in the school band," Mrs. Baldwin said. "Let's hope that all members of the Music Parents League—and all borough parents—will make every effort to attend tonight's final band program."

Tonight's concert will feature the same numbers offered on last night's program. Featured soloist

Successful Hotel Show Closes; 1,746 Register

What appeared to be the most successful hotel show in county history closed in Stroudsburg last night after chalking up registration figures of 1,746.

Harold Swenson, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau, said a third of the 77 exhibitors have already made commitments to return next year at a similar show.

Only remaining step to be taken is to turn the hotel show business back into a garage. Six truckloads of equipment and gear will be moved back into the Penn Stroud Hotel garage today, Swenson said.

A spot-check of purveyors an hour before the show closed brought comments ranging from "good" to "terrific."

On the plus side, the greatest number of comments dealt with the advantage of having the entire show at one compact spot.

Said a frozen foods representative: "It's a very good show . . . better than last year. It's good having it in a metropolitan center, near the stores. You always forget something. I bet we've been to the hardware and department stores half a dozen times since we opened."

"And there's something to do afterward. Movies, shopping, places to see. I think the people are more willing to come and spend time looking around if they're not going to be bored."

"Last year they'd come in, take a look at the show, and go home again. That was that. This is better."

The purveyor had one strong complaint: "The parking is awful. I've heard a lot of people beefing about that. Either you have to keep running out every hour and feeding a meter or else you get tickets. You could never hold a public convention here because there's no place to park."

An electronics equipment and movie film booking agent disagreed on the parking question partially: "The police have been very good," said Don Hartley of Bethlehem. "They've cooperated, and when we were a little slow getting out with the nickel, there hasn't always been a ticket on the car."

Hartley was one of the most enthusiastic purveyors at the show. "It's been terrific," he said. "We've sold more in 48 hours than we've ever sold at any other type of show bar none. Just last night our girl took out $3,000 in orders on films booked into the resorts for the summer. That's only part of our orders, and just on films. Equipment sales will run maybe as high as $40,000 or $50,000. I've never been in a better show of any kind in my life."

A factory representative who had stopped in to watch the results achieved by the booth chimed in. "I agree with that. It's very good."

Vacation Bureau Members Elect 25 New Directors

Twenty-five directors of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau were elected yesterday.

Elections were by ballot, mailed in from among the 122 members. Four of the directors were chosen unanimously from the slate of candidates. They were R. LeRoy Dengler, Hawthorne Inn; Edward C. Jenkins, Buck Hill Falls Inn; Gerald P. O'Neill, Penn-Stroud Hotel; John Shinn, Vacation Valley.

Two new directors were chosen: Charles Geissinger, Mo-Nom-O-Nock, and Albert Stets, Pocono Manor Inn.

Other directors, renamed to serve on the board, were: Harry Ahnert, Fernwood; Jane P. Albrecht, Bushkill Falls; Henry Arneberg, the Sterling; Mrs. William Barden, the Pines; T. Bridger Jr., Oak Grove; Elvira Carlton, Glenmere; Mrs. V. Fossa, Merry Hill Lodge; Walter Fossa, Pocono Mountains Inn; Robert Franklin, Ashover Cottages; is Ernest Michelfelder Jr., trumpet. Park Rockwell is the student conductor. No admission is charged.

Edward Glauser, Viking Heights; LeRoy Guccini, White Beauty View; William Hermann, Split Rock Lodge; Elwood Huffman, Mountain Lake House; Russell Low, Hemlock Lodge; Tom Robinson, Twin Pine Ranch; Jan Stibbe, Lenape Village; Edward

Miller Sees Possibility Of New Road

The Stroudsburg traffic problem was touched on last night by Alexander Miller, chairman of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

Speaking before the annual dinner of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau at the Penn Stroud Hotel, Miller mentioned briefly the new bridges which have been constructed over the Delaware in this area.

After some humorous remarks, Miller went on in a more serious vein to say:

"I know traffic will be pretty heavy into the Stroudsburgs this year."

"But with the cooperation of the State Highway Department, I'm sure you can get other highways that will help this area."

Main speaker at the banquet, attended by 186, was Mall Dodson, Atlantic City entrepreneur and promoter who talked humorously on recent promotion stunts and advertisements in the travel and resort business.

Dodson assured listeners that they'd "never had it so good" as far as available travel dollars were concerned. Despite talk of tighter money, Atlantic City business was booming.

Dodson said 42 per cent of all the travel transportation tax in the U. S. is paid in New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois. It means, he went on, that these States are the biggest markets for resort men, with New York the biggest market of all.

Among the traditions which travel and resort promoters must fight is the one which says Labor Day is the end of the summer, said Dodson.

"Make the people move," he urged. "When people move, everybody gets a piece of it. And when they move make sure they get what they paid for."

A Scranton chemical firm purveyor thought the screening of visitors hadn't been very thorough. He believed too much time was wasted talking to people who turned out not to be hotel operators but simply local people who had wandered in to look around.

The purveyor of crockery and hotel supplies in the adjoining booth disagreed. "I thought the show was much better this year because there are more people of the right kind," he said. He had already argued the point with his booth neighbor.

One purveyor had a reasoned suggestion: "Three nights in a row the very people we want to see have been whisked away to go to annual dinners that run about three hours or more."

"It comes at just the wrong time. When the dinner starts, about seven o'clock, the show is shot. It's just cleaned out."

"I think it would be better to have the annual dinners around noon, and then from two or three o'clock on, they'd be free to see what we have."

Voting Machine Labels Received

Voting machine labels for the primary election have been received at the commissioners' office and have been proofread, County Clerk Harry Taylor said yesterday.

Rest of the election supplies are expected in a few days, he said. Taylor and courthouse janitors will start setting up the voting machines the first week in May.

Collingswood Woman Thinks Missing Husband's Plane Crashed In This Region

The Civil Air Patrol of Allentown will launch a volunteer air search of the Pocono Mountains in a few days in cooperation with a Collingswood, N. J., wife who believes her husband's Naval plane crashed in this region.

Col. Charles Rich said at Allentown yesterday he put out an alert to CAP members. The request came from Mrs. Dorothy E. DeHart, who said her husband, Lt. (jg) Edward S. DeHart Jr., U. S. Navy, has been missing since March 30.

Conference Slated On Trial List

Region Basks In Mid-80 Temperatures

Temperatures in the Stroudsburgs yesterday ranged around the mid-80s as hot, sunny weather continued.

In Mount Pocono, Weatherman Harry Greene said mercury there hit a 2 p. m. high of 75.3, and a 6 a. m. low of 54 degrees.

Humidity continued low—37 per cent. Wind ranged up to 28 miles an hour in gusts, said Greene.

Prediction for today was mostly cloudy with scattered thundershowers. Temperatures were expected to range from 68 to 74.

At Pittsburg late yesterday, the U. S. Weather Bureau issued a warning of possible tornadoes in Western Pennsylvania. Three hours later, the bureau said the danger apparently had passed and called off the warning.

Firemen Called To Dreher Ave.

Half an acre of grass was burned off at 1:20 p. m. yesterday on Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg near Glen Brook Country Club. Stroudsburg firemen extinguished the fire.

Saturday—10 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Starting the Day with an Hour's Rest!

It's about an hour from his home to his office—but he doesn't think of it as a drive at all.

He just settles back in the deep, comfortable seat—rests his hand on the inviting wheel—looks out over the hood in the general direction of the office—and starts to relax.

Comes first, the ten-mile stretch in the country.

If the car were standing still, it could not be smoother or softer or quieter—as it loafs over the broad, winding highway. There's only the faint sound of the wind, plus the receding trees and posts and buildings, to give him a sense of movement.

Almost before it begins, it seems, the ten-mile stretch is over—and a sign announces the city's limits. The soft pressure of his foot shifts from accelerator to brake—and the big car settles down easily, smoothly and quickly to the prescribed speed.

And then begins the real wizardry of Cadillac performance. Stop and go—in and out—roll and creep . . . all regulated with the slightest touch of toe and hand. Insofar as the driver is concerned, it's just as easy as the open road—a little slower, of course, but just as calm and relaxing.

And maybe a little bit nicer, in one notable respect—for now there are drivers all about him—stealing glances at his beautiful car, and wondering who's the fortunate person whose name is on the title!

What a car—for highway or street! Owners say the hours behind its wheel are among the finest hours of the day—restful, relaxing and inspiring.

If you haven't as yet driven a 1954 Cadillac—you've been missing something wonderful! Better come in soon—for the most revealing hour you ever spent behind the wheel of a motor car.

They're Not Unavoidable

Another 1,000 acres of Pocono Mountains scenic beauty has been blasted by three separate fires which swelled into a single blaze in spite of the desperate efforts of over 200 fire fighters.

District Forester E. C. Pyle has not yet announced the official cause of any of the fires, but it is our belief that no matter what the cause, the element of human carelessness is involved.

Cost of forest fires goes beyond the time and effort of fire fighters and destruction of timber. Involved is destruction of water shed and the priceless assets of beauty which this region exploits year after year for economic gain affecting all of us.

There is no such thing as an unavoidable forest fire. Remember that, when you enter the forests or fields of the Pocono Mountains.

What By-Pass?

Now comes word from Harrisburg that C. H. Buckius, chief engineer of the State Highway Department has "under study" construction of a "public highway by-pass" at Stroudsburg.

That's interesting, but somewhat belated news. What we all want to know is WHAT "public highway by-pass" is being studied.

What Did You Expect?

The Army and the Civil Defense Administration have swapped letters again, and it's the same old message.

You're welcome to move to Indiantown Gap, the Army told C.D. in effect, but we reserve the right to cancel your lease on 30 days notice.

Thanks just the same, C.D. answered, but we want to be permanent tenants.

A "P.S." covered this: You can't have the vacant hospital building, but how about another spot in the eastern end of the Gap? We're not using it either.

No thanks, C.D. rejoined. Cost too much to renovate this one.

The Gap, which has room for both the Army and Civil Defense, stays right on in mothballs.

In the finest snafu tradition, everyone is right back where he started.

Retirement Tax Relief

Congress is being asked to give tax relief to persons who retire before they reach the age of 65. Retirement before this age now means they must live on whatever income they have built up during their working years. They cannot get Social Security until they have passed 65.

Most policemen are required to retire before they are 65. Teachers frequently find they are not in much demand once they have passed the 60 mark and about 20 per cent of them retire before becoming 65. Many other persons, for good and valid reasons, find it necessary to retire before the so-called "retirement age" of 65.

Congress should not find it hard to give some special tax consideration to these persons. It has been suggested that the first $1,200 annual income of such persons be exempt from taxation.

This is a small item in the nation's tax bill. It is one deserving sympathy and support, and we are sure Congress readily will understand the financial problems of those persons who are forced to live on a meager retirement income for several years before their social security becomes effective to bolster it.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

G.I. and the Oppenheimer Case

Dear Babe:

Well I am all tied up in knots trying to savor this Dr. Oppenheimer case, and what gets me is his statement that for years he never read a newspaper or had a radio. It goes to show what can happen to a man who doesn't have the funnies and crossword puzzles when he feels tense. Also he can never claim he was driven a little off the beam by the radio commercials, which is most people's excuse for behavior that calls for explanations.

The doctor says he was in his thirties before he even had a telephone. This can explain everything. If I could never get a phone call from a sweetie-pie, fix up a little poker game with the boys by wire now and then or call a number just to see if it corresponded with the little red book, I would also find life confusing, I guess. I would think a top requirement for filling any top job in the atomic energy field would be that a guy read the papers, know what was going on and who was doing what in this critical age. The idea of a man being headed for a job affecting the fate of the world without a newspaper, a radio or a phone puts my hair on end. How would he know whether the chief threat to America was from Carrie Nation and the kerosene lamp or from Stalin, Hitler and super bombs?

This scientific whiz kid may be 100 per cent loyal, and he did a great job. It could be true, like he says, that he got mixed up got hauled before three generals

on a report I had put red cabbage and sour cream in the army soup.

Even if I had shown papers proving

I was a scientific genius the generals would not have picked me to handle the whole matter of atomic and H-bombs.

Well, that's life. I got a hunch

Joe McCarthy is to blame for the belated but sudden news. He was all set to make sensational charges when Washington and Dr. Oppenheimer beat him to it.

The determination to keep Joe from getting into the act is plain.

If I was making bets I would bet Dr. Oppenheimer is found okay and the fact he played ball with Comies years ago before he took the bomb job will be excused. Anybody can make a mistake, even if I never heard a scientist admit one before. Whatever the outcome is, I hope the probers will recommend that the doctor read the papers regularly, keep a phone in the house and buy a radio. (I would not insist on a TV set. The long commercials constitute cruel and unusual punishment.) Another thing that bothers me is Dr. Oppenheimer's statement that he didn't vote until he was in his thirties. How nuclear can you get?

Love and kisses,

WEAKEST LINK

Robert S. Allen Reports

France Willing For Truce Giving Reds N. Indochina

Washington—France is willing to agree to a truce that would give the Communists permanent hold of northern

Indo-China.

Such a compromise is acceptable to the U.S. on one condition.

This requirement

would bar Red

China from giving more military aid of any kind to the satellite

Vietnam.

These secret proposals were the most important matter discussed by Secretary of State Dulles at his hush-hush meeting with congressional leaders before flying to Europe for the Geneva Conference with Russia and Red China.

Dulles indicated the French are prepared to offer their cease-fire formula at this parity.

He expressed belief the Communist will reject the plan, particularly if it includes the American stipulation. That is being "seriously" considered by the French.

Dulles told the congressional leaders he was handing the armistice proposal during his hurried meeting with Premier Laniel

last week. Its key provisions were:

The aggressor Vietnam to evacuate completely Laos and Cambodia.

The Reds to evacuate or give up their arms in central and southern Vietnam.

In northern Vietnam, the Communist forces to withdraw beyond the Red River Delta, and a neutral zone to be established between them and French Union forces in the Delta area.

After these terms have been fulfilled, France and the three

Associated States of Indo-China

will enter negotiations with the Vietnam and Red China for a peace pact.

Dulles said he informed the French that while their compromise has certain merits, it is not acceptable to the U.S. without major changes. Chief of them is a guarantee that Red China will cease arming its satellite Vietnam.

Dulles pointed out that Communist withdrawal from Laos,

Cambodia and central and southern Vietnam, the most productive sections of that country, would enable France and the U.S. to build them up economically, politically and militarily. This would create a "situation of strength" that would constitute a powerful barrier to renewed

Communist aggression in not only

Indo-China but all of Southeast

Asia.

For these reasons, he explained,

he was inclined to favor the Korea the first item on the agenda of the conference, with

Indo-China taken up later. Dulles indicated his opening speech will deal chiefly with Korea and its stalled peace negotiations.

No More Eavesdropping — If

Senate leaders have their way,

there will be no more recording of senatorial telephone conversations with government officials.

Such secret tapings have turned out to be most embarrassing.

So government agencies are being strongly pressured to abandon this practice, and the first to agree to do so is the Treasury Department.

This came to light at a closed-door meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which having control of the government

purse strings is in a powerful position to get its way. Two leaders of the Committee made it clear they want no more "eavesdropping" on senatorial telephoning.

They are Senators Styles

Bridges (R., N.H.), Committee

chairman, and Everett Dirksen,

Ill., chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee.

They bluntly raised the recording question when Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman

Andrews appeared before the Committee for a private discussion of his budget. Various congressional investigations have disclosed that in the past Revenue officials made extensive use of telephone recording equipment, especially on favor-seeking calls from members of Congress.

Dirksen led off by saying, "I want to ask you a 564 question.

We are putting it up to all agency heads. Do you monitor telephone calls from Capitol Hill?"

"No, sir," replied Andrews. "I do not, and I go further than that.

We don't monitor any telephone calls. An order to that effect has been issued by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey."

The late Jim Thorpe, all-time athletic great, once hit three home runs in a single game into different states! In an exhibition game in a Texas border-town park, playing for the New York

Giants, Thorpe socked one ball over the left field fence into Oklahoma, a second over the right field wall into Arkansas, and a third, for an inside-the-park round-tripper in Texas.

Mrs. Guggenheimer peered anxiously around the canasta room of the Century Club and asked,

"Where's that dizzy blonde who was passing the drinks around here?" "What's the matter," asked her friend, "looking for a cocktail?" "Not at all," explained

Mrs. G. "I'm looking for my husband."

No family should have less than three children, warns paper-tycoon Sam Himmelfarb, because if there's one genius among them, there should be two to support him.

Stars of the sixth magnitude are visible to the naked eye.

Farm Policy Discussion Takes Place

Monroe-Pike Pomona Grange No. 64 met at Tannersville Fire Hall with Pomona Master Alvin Blizt presiding over the afternoon and evening sessions.

The charter was draped in memory of Elizabeth Majestic and Vera Snyder, late of Cherry Valley Grange. Chaplain Martha Bradshaw and Ceres Cora Praetorius officiated.

The master presented Mr. and Mrs. Ely Fretz, visitors from Bucks County, to the Grange. Mr. Fretz gave a brief talk and Mrs. Fretz responded with a humorous monologue.

Pomona Lecturer Christine Teachman introduced Arthur E. Illi, extension agent for Monroe County, who led an interesting discussion on farm policy, assisted by Mrs. Doris Blizt, home economics supervisor for the Pike County Extension Service.

The subject was divided into three parts—farm prices, efficiency and volume of production and cost of farm production supplies. Direct questions were asked and the votes on each question were recorded on forms which will be forwarded to the State and National Grange.

State Deputy Andrew Teachman installed Emil Laubscher as assistant steward. Mrs. Myrtle Laubscher was reappointed chairman of the Pomona Grange Home Economics Committee.

The degree of Pomona was conferred on 11 candidates. The degree team consisted of: Master, Andrew Teachman; overseer, Emil Laubscher; lecturer, Gladys Blizt; steward, Edmund McEvoy; asst. steward, Leith Hoffman; chaplain, Edith San Pietro; treasurer, Alvin Blizt; secretary, Myrtle Laubscher; gatekeeper, Arthur Drescher Sr.; Ceres, Anna Briard; Pomona, Doris Blizt; Flora, Evelyn Seidof; lady asst. steward, Josie Keisel.

The court attendants: Martha Bradshaw, Susan Moreaux, Margaret Gavaille, Elsie Daily, Edith Armstrong, Mable Bloker, Alfreida Henry, Cora Praetorius and Hazel De Garmo as emblem bearers.

Marching candidates were: Bertha Voelker, Francis Mooney, Maybelle Crane, Richard Seidof, Clyde and Mary Howe, Christine Teachman and Charles Van Seiver.

The lecturer announced that the five-county picnic basket dinner will be held at Urrana Park, Weatherly, Pa. on Saturday, July 17.

Pocono Twp. Firemen Buy New Truck

Tannersville—A new fire truck has been purchased for $9,288 by Pocono Township Fire Co., Engineer Fred Metzgar said last night.

Delivery will be made the first of July, he said. The new truck is a 1954 Model 750 Ford, 300-gallon booster truck, with a 500-gallon Watrous pump amidship. Body and equipment are by Howe, and the chassis was bought from Ray Price, Mountainhome.

The truck replaces the present 1923 booster.

The company paid most of the purchase price but must still manage to raise the balance.

A ham supper will be given at the firehouse May 1 as a start toward raising the balance.

The present fire fighting equipment consists of the truck being replaced, another booster truck, a tank truck and a pick-up truck.

Scout Troop Holds Review Of Activities

Annual review of activities by Troop 97, Boy Scouts, sponsored by Grace Lutheran Church, was held this week at the church.

Dr. Francis B. McGarry, chairman of organization and extension for the Pocono District, BSA, conducted the review.

It was pointed out that the troop has succeeded in achieving every one of the goals set up for it last year. Primary goals were set up in connection with the national program for participation in the "Forward on Liberty's Team" drive.

Among other things, the troop succeeded in getting an adult leader for every ten boys registered with it. There are now 37 boys in the troop.

Others have since grown past the 14-year-old age limit and are transferring to Post 97.

Activities during the past year included sending 27 boys to Camp Weygalt for one-week Summer camp; several week-end "camp outs", including New Year's Day.

On April 3 and 4, 23 boys and five adult leaders from the troop hiked from the church to Camp Weygalt and spent the weekend there. Several of the boys have taken part in tree planting programs.

Plans are now being made for an extensive tree planting and conservation program for this year.

Adult leaders for the troop are the following: Rev. William Wunder, institutional administrative officer; John Wagner, institutional representative; Clarence H. Strunk, troop committee chairman; David Bernbaum, advancement; Andrew Choy, camping and activities; J. H. Kunkle, troop committee.

F. Jay Snover is scoutmaster; Meredith Van Sickle, Herman Meinhardt and Stanley Melvin are assistants.

Three Children Baptized At Reformed Church

Swiftwater—Three children were baptized at Easter morning services in St. Paul's Reformed Church here. Rev. William E. Foose, pastor, administered the rites.

Baptized were Sunna Kathleen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Miller; John H. Bowman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman; and Betsy Ellen Metzgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Metzgar.

Flowers in the sanctuary were placed by Mrs. Edith Werkheiser and Mrs. Pearl Werkheiser, in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Learn, and Charles Werkheiser; Mrs. Anna Metzgar in memory of her son Jimmy; the Youth Fellowship in memory of Jimmy Metzgar; Mr. and Mrs. George Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis. Bulletins were sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heckman. The attendance numbered 127.

Children were heard in a program of songs and recitations for Easter as part of the Sunday School hour.

Citizenship Award Winners Announced

Two Pocono Township School students will be honored for outstanding achievements in citizenship this year.

Shirley Bitterman, grade eight, will receive the DAR award. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Bitterman, Tannersville.

She is a member of the Dancing Club and Future Homemakers of America.

Selected for the American Legion award is Richard Bullock Jr., also of the eighth grade. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bullock, of Swiftwater.

He is a member of History Club, Photography Club, and the Boy Scouts. He was the junior grand prize winner in the Northeastern Pennsylvania Science Fair for his project showing a model oil well.

Civil Defense Chief To Urge Express Roads

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Val Peterson, federal civil defense administrator, said he plans to recommend "a fine system of express highways in and out of every major city in America."

Peterson, addressing the Michigan Civil Defense Advisory Council, said a massive program of building expressway exits from urban areas is necessary if America is to evacuate its cities in the face of a hydrogen bombing attack.

"There is no alternative to evacuation," Peterson said. "We have three choices: To go underground, to get out or to stay and die."

"How are you going to get people out of the cities on these antiquated, horse-and-buggy highways?" Peterson asked. He advocated an immediate nationwide expressway construction program as part of the federal budget and a "big public works program if jobs are needed."

Dr. C. S. Flager will be out of town April 25 to May 9.—Adv.

Pike County Group Seeks Better Roads

Milford—Efforts to gain better highway service into and through Pike County will be explored by Pike County Association, members decided this week.

Meeting at the home of President Arthur E. Howe, members cited improvements that are needed for Route 611 leading into the county from the south; and on Route 507 near Lake Wallenpaupack.

It was disclosed that work has been contracted for Routes 6 and 209.

Resolutions adopted by the association, proposed by Lewis E. Miller, include requesting the State Highway Department to make Route 611 a dual highway, using the entire length of the Delaware River canal for expansion.

A similar resolution was proposed for Route 207, asking that the highway be resurfaced, widened and rebuilt.

Named as a committee to investigate re-planting of trees on Harford St. were Joseph A. Cusack, Edmund G. McEvoy, Allen T. Titus and O. Howard Wolfe.

Members set Wednesday night, June 2, as the date for their annual Spring dinner meeting. The affair will be held at Laurel Villa Casino with invitations going to Hawley-Lake Wallenpaupack Chamber of Commerce to attend. State officials will be urged to attend, it was announced.

Selected to arrange for the meeting are L. E. Miller, Carl W. Muhlhauer, Willard N. Durr and Helen Jung.

It was learned a colored brochure will soon be published for Pike County, and the annual directory also will be in circulation.

Community Shows Neighborly Spirit On Behalf Of Invalid

Mountainhome—This small community demonstrated its good neighbor policy recently by presenting 60-year-old Chester Shaller with a new wheelchair.

Injured as a lad of 9, Shaller lost the use of both legs. His lifetime here has been spent in various small enterprises, among them printing, sign painting and operating a newsstand at the Cresco DL&W Railroad station.

Now as operator of a newstand and candy and soda shop here, Shaller won the praise of neighbors for his gallant stand against invalidism. They came to his aid last month by contributing $75 for a new wheelchair.

Mrs. Walter Magann is credited with starting the local fund-raising drive. Practically every resident assisted to propel the campaign toward completion.

Members of the Shaller family last night asked that it be publicly acknowledged that Chester is appreciative of the service and wants his neighbors to know he's thankful.

Mrs. Eleanor Heckert Opens Pram To Prom Shop Here

By James B. Gaffney

Eleanor Heckert's new store, the Pram to Prom Shop, held its grand opening at 716 Main St., Stroudsburg, yesterday.

In a completely remodeled shop adjoining Frances Burrow's dress shop, Mrs. Heckert launched her second retail venture in Stroudsburg; her first is Eleanor's Booterie at 581 Main.

Mrs. Heckert introduced Mrs. John Weirick of Snyder'sville as her Pram to Prom manager. A Mount Pocono native, Mrs. Weirick is the former Ruth Franks. Her husband operates a trucking business in the Snyder'sville section. She comes to the new shop with a wealth of experience in the retail sales field.

Unique in design and color scheme, the new store has a jet black ceiling to contrast with the apple blossom pink walls. Open display racks and wrought iron furniture add to the attractiveness. Spotlights, still to be installed, will focus light in all four corners. Four other spots located in the front display window will illuminate the large plate glass area, "the largest on Main St.," Mrs. Heckert says.

Off to the right of the entrance is a small dressing room where children will try on the clothing. And still under construction, expected to be ready in two weeks, is a room in the rear which will contain a play pen and toy area where mothers can leave their children while shopping in the store.

Mrs. Heckert said her store will cater to "distinctive fashions for children from infant to teen-age sizes."

Forrest Smith is marking the 20th anniversary of his Pocono Stamp and Coin Co. this week.

Founded April 21, 1934 by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the company has offices at 624 Main St., Stroudsburg. The business was started at the corner of Sixth and Main St. where the J. J. Newberry Store now is located.

Smith, former burgess of Delaware Water Gap, said his business is carried to all States and into several foreign countries by virtue of advertisements in stamp and coin collector's journals. To celebrate the occasion Smith is offering at special rates 2,000 year-old Roman coins, the type pictured in the Bible.

Gene Hippler, 114 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg has opened a shop at that address and will concentrate on custom linoleum work.

An experienced floor covering expert, Hippler formerly was associated with a local firm which specializes in linoleum flooring and wall tile coverings.

Coffee prices continue on the climb in the Stroudsburg.

Yesterday a spot check disclosed the Brazilian "gold" was retailing locally at from $1.11 to $1.34 a pound, some brands increasing as much as seven cents a pound during the week.

Some wholesalers are predicting prices may zoom to $1.50 and can offer no opinion as to where the upswing will end.

Meanwhile consumers still are buying and are expected to keep pace with the price hikes. Some quarters say shoppers have tightened their purse strings on coffee purchases somewhat, stretching their daily, average usage to a ration program. But the customer still is buying.

Stockholders of J. C. Penney Co., nation-wide department store organization, learned this week at their annual meeting that 1954 will see the company's largest new-store expansion program in more than 20 years.

According to A. W. Hughes, president, the company will open at least 30 new stores. In the planning stage is a total of 63 new stores, including 46 which will be suburban or shopping center stores to meet the increasing demand for shopping facilities outside larger cities, Hughes added.

In addition, 53 existing stores will be relocated in new buildings in towns long served by Penney stores. The company also expects to continue its remodeling program. Last year 176 outlets were improved by refixturing or adding selling space.

The Penney stores local outlet at Sixth and Main Sts., Stroudsburg is managed by Max Stadfeld.

Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. pro forma consolidated earnings for the 12 months ending March 31 were $15,372,354 on the equivalent of $3.12 a share of common stock, officials of the utility company said this week.

The earnings are far ahead of the same period last year which ended with $12,128,481, or $2.46 a share.

Consolidated revenues for the most recent period increased 7.9 percent over the previous year, showing a total of $107,977,507.

This week also saw Charles E. Oakes reelected president of PP&L at the annual shareholders meeting in Allentown. Among the other officers appointed by the board of

Garden Club Features Wild Flowers As Program Theme

With Monroe County's own Wildflower Sanctuary, sponsored by the Monroe County Garden Club, now coming into its own in the Glen at LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery, the members found unusual interest in the program given at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Norman C. Fisher, park botanist at Bowman's State Wild Flower Preserve, was the guest speaker. He thanked the club for their donations not only to their own Laurel Trail at Bowman's Hill, but also for their contribution of native wild flowers in other trails and for the actual labor which members have performed in keeping their trail in condition.

He offered the help and advice of the staff at Bowman's Hill for the Monroe County Wild Flower Sanctuary. Special guests at the meeting included members of the Garden Club of Wyoming Valley, Wilkes-Barre, who came especially to study the planting at the Wild Flower Sanctuary. Other guests included Girl Scout Troop 29, Marshall's Creek, of which Mrs. Joan Place is leader, who came to see the colored slides which Mr. Fisher showed of wild flowers and birds at the Preserve, as well as pictures of flowers and animals in the National Parks of the West. The pictures used a new technique of close-ups which showed every detail of the flowers pictured.

Mrs. Fisher was introduced by Mrs. Elwood Grant, program chairman, Mrs. Russell Hamblin reported on a meeting held recently in Philadelphia by sponsors of trails at Bowman's Hill. She announced that there are 200 square feet of trailing arbutus at the Preserve at present.

Mrs. O. J. Liljenstein presided at the meeting. The bulletin board, arranged by Mrs. A. H. Matheson had many articles of interest to gardeners and landscaping their own homes including articles on evergreens, magnolias, bulbs, asters and clematis. Mrs. W. R. Erickson and Mrs. Thomas McCool Sr. reported on the recent Philadelphia Flower Show, with particular mention of the French clematis in white and the new rose, "Eclipse."

Miss Fannie Swartzwelder, horticulture chairman, reported on the care of gift plants and Easter flowers.

Mrs. Thomas McCool Sr. presided at the tea table, which was decorated with an arrangement of daffodils, narcissus, forsythia and star magnolia by Mrs. Frank Stackhouse, Mrs. Gerald Shanley Sr. was chairman of the hostess committee which also included Mrs. Alexander Korbano and Mrs. Jacob S. Haigh.

There was a varied display of spring flower arrangements by the club members.

Ann Tierney President Of Coolbaugh Aux.

Tobyhanna—The Ladies' Auxiliary, Coolbaugh Twp. Vol. Fire Co., elected officers for the forthcoming year at their meeting on Tuesday evening at Blake's Beechwood: President, Ann Tierney; vice president, Mrs. Joseph Blake; secretary, Julia Pulaski; treasurer, Winifred Scanlon.

A flag and stand were donated to the fire company. A rising vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Joseph Rice and Mrs. Fred Pope, outgoing officers.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Women make different noises for animals and flowers. Even with your eyes closed during the showing of the slides at the Garden Club meeting yesterday afternoon, (though why you'd close your eyes on such pretty things I wouldn't know) you could have told what they were looking at.

They went o-o-o-oh with a sort of a coo for the groundhog, and a-a-ah with a sort of a gasp for the quaker ladies. And speaking of wild flowers, the reports seemed to indicate that things are blooming in more ways than one over in our own wild flower sanctuary.

Birds and bees and flowers were certainly appropriate to the day—and so was the sweet music which the audience heard at the SHS band concert last night. Nobody was tempted to close their eyes there, either, since with their new uniforms, the band was dazzling to behold.

Fortunately you've still got tonight, so I hope you won't miss it. It's for free and the band's gift to you. Can't think of a nicer present to have than the memory of a good concert.

Looks as if our fine weather was going to be a memory today, too. However, the reservoirs need filling, the forest fires need dampening, and anyway the grass was growing far too fast.

—Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:15 a.m.

Mrs. Dawson President Of Co. Women

Stone Church—The Northampton County Federation of Women's Clubs held installation of officers at their spring meeting held at the Reformed Church at Stone Church on Wednesday, April 21. Officers installed were: President, Mrs. Gayle Dawson, of Easton Senior Women's Club; 1st vice president, Mrs. Bert Transue, of the Portland Senior Women's Club; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Stanley Kulaitis, of the Easton Jr. Women's Club; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert Masters, of the Pen Argyl Senior Women's Club; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Stoddard, of the Bangor Senior Women's Club, and treasurer, Miss Estelle Werst, of the Hellertown Senior Women's Club.

The main speaker of the session was Mrs. Carl E. Schnur, chairman of the Pennsylvania Federation Department of Education, whose topic was "Our Educational Program and Your Club." Mrs. Schnur brought out in her address five aims of the Woman's Clubs in education, and they are: (1) to ingrain into the minds of youth today the ideals of American heritage; (2) support public schools; (3) broaden the educational opportunities for all by increasing scholarship opportunities for all; (4) to increase adult educational facilities; and (5) to support libraries.

She also brought out that character building must begin in the home. She stated that there are 30,000,000 boys and girls in the schools of Pennsylvania, which is one-fifth of the population of the state. In the period from 1946 to 1950 there were 10,000 new classrooms, and in the period 1950 to 1954 there were 150,000 new classrooms. In 1950 2.7% of the national income was spent on education, she said.

The Portland Woman's Club, Mrs. E. R. Carpenter president, was hostess to the group. Committees were: Registration, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Morris Hauser; decorations, Mrs. Phillip Strunk and Mrs. William Kennedy; tickets, Mrs. Harry Bellis and Mrs. Arthur Barton; reservations, Mrs. E. R. Carpenter and Mrs. Wayne Van Vorst; and hospitality, Mrs. Griffith Davies.

The afternoon session was called to order by past president, Mrs. Lee MacLellan, and Mrs. Horace Rusing led in the pledge of allegiance and National Anthem. Mrs. Carpenter gave the welcome, and Mrs. J. G. Bragg, a teacher and writer of published poems and winner of state awards, gave a talk on "Adventures in Poetry." Mrs. Warren Edson, vice president of Northeastern District, spoke on "Your County Organization."

The evening session was opened with a welcome by Mrs. Van Vorst of the Portland Club, and Mrs. Willard Thomas, County Federation Historian, gave a short history. Miss Mary Pennington gave a piano selection, and also accompanied Miss Ann Hocking, who sang.

Teen-Agers Wage Political Campaigns

Teen-age Republicans are trying their wings as fledgling politicians this week as their campaigns for the title of Mr. and Miss Republican of 1954 speeded up this week. They were distributing printed cards in the interest of their candidacy and lining up family and neighborhood support in the election which will be held this Saturday from 1 to 5 in the office of A. L. Rake and Son, Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

There will be a teen-age election board, too, in charge of the voting with Charlotte Towse, last year's Miss Republican, as judge of election, and Sharon Slutter, Michael Viennele and Larry Beige as the election board. Candidates in the race included Frances Mooney, Glenn Price, Jane Beseker, Dolores Kane, Richard Graeber, Leslie Deubler, Zoe Machamer, Marilyn Miller, Beverly Jean Keiper, Ann Marie Fedin, Sylvia Younklin, Edith Van Why, and Pauline Serfass.

Everyone in the contest, regardless of age or political affiliation, is eligible to vote for their favorite boy and girl. Mrs. J. Russell Custard is originator and founder of the contest. The winners will be taken on a trip to Harrisburg for luncheon with the governor, interviews with their representatives, and dinner at the Hotel Hershey. They will receive their crowns at a summer meeting of the Monroe Council of Republican Women, sponsors of the teen-age contest.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

If you heard the Wyckoff Shopper radio program yesterday, this column will not interest you. If you didn't, and are a housewife who always feels worn out at the end of a day, I believe it is worthy of your consideration. You see, most of the hard work of keeping a household functioning smoothly centers around the kitchen—"The Heart of the Home"—and it was our nation's kitchens that came under the scrutiny of Dr. Mary H. Easby at Wednesday's meeting of the Northeastern Region, Pennsylvania Heart Association in Scranton, which I attended.

Dr. Easby is chief of the cardiac clinic of Women's Hospital, Philadelphia, and urges women to be "not just housewives, but domestic scientists." It is amazing, she says, how much fatigue can be avoided through the skillful planning of one's kitchen, and the adopting of a sensible, methodical housekeeping program.

Working with the General Electric company, and with efficiency experts such as Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, Dr. Easby has approved a kitchen that will eliminate many of the dangers of housework for cardiac patients, and much of the heart strain that accompanies routine tasks. As she points out, it is wonderful to have all the modern devices such as dish washers, clothes dryers, automatic ironers, and so on—but actually these are not essential, if a little thought is given to the correct use of what ever one already works with.

For instance, Dr. Easby contends that no woman should stand at her work if she can sit. Every kitchen should be equipped with a stool at the height best suited to the woman who will use it, and it should have wheels so that it can be glided easily from place to place. If you have one, use it—open the sink doors, slide it near enough to the sink for comfort, and sit while vegetables are washed and cleaned, or while washing dishes. Under the sink, or attached to the inner door, there should be a garbage container, to be emptied by the MAN of the house. The same rolling stool should accompany Mrs. Homemaker to the ironing board.

A small table on wheels also has a place in the kitchen. On this, the marketing basket should be placed and unpacked. Then it can be wheeled effortlessly from cupboard to refrigerator, to closet, while things are put away. In other words, Dr. Easby believes that nothing should be lifted or carried if it can be slid or rolled, and that every household budget should be so set up to take care of whatever small expenditure is involved in lowering shelves to within easy reaching distance, or raising tables and work surfaces to a convenient level.

Bending over is hard on the heart too, when not done properly, so why bend when you can avoid it? A long handled mop and a dustpan into which the handle of an old broom has been inserted, are handy and healthful to use.

Dr. Easby would like to see all women "take the itch out of kitchen" and stop jay-walking through life in poorly planned homes. We at Wyckoff's agree with her heartily. (No pun intended.) We have those little enameled tables on wheels in our housewares department for five dollars or thereabouts. We have long handled mops and cleaning attachments too. And we have those easy-on-the-heart kitchen units—the electric units—the electric broiler you can use at any height desired, the wonderful Frigidaire stoves, automatic washers, dryers, and refrigerators with roll-out shelves and fingertip control. So why don't we get together? Our heart is in our work... why not let us see about the "Heart of Your Home"?

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Karl Weingartner's return to the Stroudsburg High baseball lineup improved the situation today, even though the weatherman was predicting rain at a late hour last night. The hard hitting shortstop sat out the game with East Stroudsburg in the fading stages of measles. Karl's return leaves the Mountaineers with only one regular on the sidelines, namely Bill Carson. Bill practiced yesterday but can run at only half speed because of a leg injury. Ken Barthold, utility infielder, will be unable to play today too. He didn't even practice yesterday.

Barthold suffered a pulled shoulder muscle in a baseline collision with Don Herman on Wednesday. Ken couldn't even raise his right arm yesterday and so throwing was an impossibility. Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg are counting heavily on their ace hurler, Dick Shuster and Bill Sommers respectively. If both right handers have outstanding campaigns, the Mountaineers and Cavaliers may cause trouble down the 1954 diamond stretch. East Stroudsburg is at home with Parkland today, while Stroudsburg is on foreign soil against Palmyerton.

Jack Mullins, president of the Monroe County Softball League, will have minor surgery performed at the Monroe County General Hospital on Monday. Annette Davenhauer, the Ursinus tennis ace who opposed Jean Hecht, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College star, in the number one singles match yesterday returned to college last September, after leaving school in 1942. Annette may be one of the oldest woman athletes to have ever performed on Normal Hill. East Stroudsburg's Little League field was recently reseeded and improved with additional top soil.

Gene Hartzell, the plate umpire in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg baseball game on Wednesday and the umpire in last Thanksgiving Day's football game between the same two schools, showed sports movies at the Central Labor Union club last night. There is a possibility that Jack Saylor, a member of the ESSTC mile relay team, may not campaign in the State Teachers Mile Relay, at the Penn Relays today. Jack, well known in Normal Hill swimming circles, is currently hampered by a pulled back muscle.

Today's State Teachers Mile Relay will be one of the few ever missed by Howard DeNike, ESSTC's veteran track coach. DeNike is currently attending a safety meeting in Bedford Springs, Pa. The team will be handled by Ed Shay, veteran member of the ESSTC physical education staff. George Ockershausen has never defeated Rider in his tour of duty as head baseball coach on Normal Hill. Seven errors enabled Rider to score an 11-2 nod over the Warriors on Wednesday and snap a two-game winning streak by the latter. Approximately 40 people will attend tonight's Line Material Shop League bowling banquet at Stroud Manor, Ananionik.

Oscar J. Liljenstein, George Ockershausen, Miss Katherine Griffith and Miss Genevieve Zimbar, all members of the ESSTC physical education staff, have attended meetings of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in New York this week. There will be several changes at Stroudsburg Speedway this summer. Don't forget the Ham and Oyster Supper being held at the Ananionik P.O.S. of A. Hall tomorrow, from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m. Transportation will be supplied those without means of traveling to the affair. Proceeds go to the Ananionik entry in Pocono Mountains Baseball League.

Bushkill, the Pocono Mountains League club that was having trouble finding nine players a couple weeks back, now has over 20 under contract. Tom Bessecker, a resident of Tannersville and the Dodgers' number one fan in this neck of the woods, watched his favorites take a lacing at the hands of the Phillies on Tuesday night, at Connie Mack Stadium. Harry Janson, first vice president of the Pocono Mountains League, also made the trip. At least one local bowling league has rewarded its secretary for his hard work. East Stroudsburg High has a sound infield that features plenty of color, with Harold White at shortstop and Dick Gray on second base.

Ray Lambert, golf pro at Mountain Manor, played golf at the Berwick Country Club prior to the recent meeting of the Pocono Turf Association. Ray played with Bill Skomsky, newly named pro who is also a coach at Berwick High, and Leo Heller. Skomsky shot a 69, while Lambert came up with a 70. Heller ended a 74. Byron "Chick" Miller, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High, is reportedly a baseball candidate at Utica College this spring. Miller is currently battling for the first base position.

Tickets are still moving slowly for Monday's all-sports banquet being held by the Varsity "S" Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. This reporter is hopeful people of the area will get behind the venture and make it just as successful as ones held in previous years.

East Stroudsburg, Stroudsburg Open League Seasons

Cavaliers Play Host To Parkland

East Stroudsburg High school will open the Lehigh-Northampton League baseball wars today by playing host to a highly regarded Parkland High contingent, at East Stroudsburg Playground. The contest is scheduled to take place at 4 p. m.

Fresh from an 8-8 deadlock with Stroudsburg, the Cavaliers are hopeful of opening league activity with a favorable decision over a Parkland club that has been tough down through the years.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that Bill Sommers would again do the pitching for the Cavaliers, with Gary "Jeep" Peckman as number one relief.

Six Hitter
Sommers gave up only six hits in Wednesday's outing and will probably pitch all of the East Stroudsburg games this season.

Kist also pointed out last night that the remainder of the starting lineup for today's game will be the same one that opened hostilities against Stroudsburg.

This means that "Boo" "Booster" Miller will handle the catching chores, while Bill Penzell performs at first base; Dick Gray, second base; Harold White, shortstop; Gene Plaza, third base; Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, left field; Don Herman, center field, and Charley Lits, right field. Lits was one of the hitting stars against Stroudsburg, blasting a home run and two singles.

East Stroudsburg enjoys an open date on the schedule next Tuesday, but returns to action next Friday against Nazareth, on the latter's home field.

Yankees Close Deal For Enos

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees completed the Enos Slaughter deal with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday by optioning catcher Hal Smith to the Cardinals farm club at Columbus in the American Association.

Smith recently recovered from a virus attack after batting .333 in spring training. A righthanded batter, Smith hit .311 in 127 games with Birmingham in the Southern Association last season.

Three Others
The Yankees already have assigned outright to Cardinal farms the contracts of outfielders Emil Telinger and Bill Vardon. Pitcher Mel Wright was shifted to the Cardinals, April 11.

Slaughter has yet to break into the Yankee lineup as a starter although he has appeared in four games, twice as a pinch runner and twice as a pinch hitter.

ESSTC Girls Down Ursinus In Initial Tennis Match, 4-1

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College opened its girls' tennis season yesterday with a solid 4-1 victory over Ursinus, on the Normal Hill courts.

The Warriorettes, showing a well balanced organization, lost only one match while gliding to the opening day victory.

Jean Hecht, number one singles performer for the ESSTC pupils of Coach Mary Whitehead, won over Annette Davenhauer, Ursinus, 6-3, 6-4, in one of the best matches of the day.

Even Score
Ursinus came back to win the second singles contest, as Connie Cross took the measure of Elaine Hardenburgh, ESSTC, 6-4, 6-2.

Nancy Noll sent the Warriorettes into a lead they never relinquished by winning the third singles encounter from Sue Holmes, Ursinus, 6-0, 8-6.

ESSTC won both of the doubles matches. Marian LaFrette and Martha McAndrew took the measure of Jo Kuhn and Jennifer Price, 6-1, 6-3, and Marilyn Daurich and Margaret Rothermel combined to down Beverly Syvertsen and Nancy Laib, 6-2, 6-2.

The Warriorettes return to action next Wednesday, with Moravian College providing the opposition on the Normal Hill courts.

Black Favored Over Klein

New York (AP)—Jed Black, a 23-year-old college educated puncher, is a 2-1 favorite to run his unbeaten streak to 27 at Joey Klein's expense tonight in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Record
A stablemate of "Chuck" Davey, another ex-college champ, Black, a Michigan State graduate from Janesville, Wis., has racked up a 26-1-1 record since turning pro 19 months ago.

Dillard To Make Tour
Cleveland (AP)—Harrison Dillard, Cleveland's Olympic hurdles and sprint star, said yesterday he had accepted a State Department invitation to tour several foreign countries this fall as a good will representative.

Weingartner Returns From Sick List

Stroudsburg High's baseball team will be in a much better frame of mind today, when it opens the Lehigh Valley League season, than it was against East Stroudsburg on Wednesday. The Mountaineers will have hard hitting Karl Weingartner back at shortstop for today's invasion of Palmyerton. The game is slated to begin at 4 p. m.

The Mountaineers will present their regular infield, but Bill Carson will still be missing from his usual right field post because of a painful leg injury.

Dick Shuster, captain of the Stroudsburg club, will be on the hill for the Mountaineers, as the W. Main St. nine attempts to open the circuit campaign with a victory. Shuster is a veteran right hander and worked the last two innings against East Stroudsburg on Wednesday.

Lineup
Dick Campetto will be back at his regular catching post, while Dave Nevel handles the first base job and Paul "Doc" Lim moves back to second base. Weingartner will be at shortstop; Dick "Pickles" Hintz, third base; LeRoy Van Baskirk, left field; Harold Miller, center field, and Don "Ookie" Setzer, right field.

Bob Rogers, Dick Little, Waltie Adelmann and Setzer will be available as relief pitchers if Palmyerton should knock Shuster from the box.

Palmyerton, as in past years, is expected to be one of the strongest clubs in the Lehigh Valley League this season.

Stroudsburg tangles with Whitehall next Tuesday, at Whitehall, and then plays host to Slatington, defending champion, at Gordon Giffels field next Friday.

Softball Loop Faces Tasks

Five important topics of business will be taken up at Sunday's pre-opening day meeting of the Monroe County Softball League, at the home of Jack Mullins, 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg. The gathering is slated for 8 p. m.

The five business topics outlined by Mullins, president of the league, include final arrangements for the opening of the circuit on Monday.

Umpires
Specific appointment of umpires for the first day and the addition of umpires to the staff are two other topics to be discussed.

Payment of entrance fees and the continued work on a financial campaign are other important topics of business.

Rookie Hurls No-Hit Gem

Waycross, Ga. (AP)—Rookie Johnnie Seaggs, making his first professional baseball appearance in the Waycross Bears' home opener, pitched a no-hit game against the Thomasville Dodgers here yesterday.

Two Doubles
He also rapped out two doubles and drove in two runs. Waycross won 3-0. Waycross is an Atlanta farm club in the class "D" Georgia-Florida League.

Poccono Manor Pro Only One Stroke Off Pace In First Round Of Tournament Of Champions

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Two Purple Heart heroes of World War II, Lloyd Mangrum and Ted Kroll, scored four under par 68s yesterday to grab the lead at the end of the first round of the $55,000 Tournament of Champions.

Shooting at the $10,000 top prize for the 72-hole desert classic, Mangrum, the veteran from Niles, Ill., and sturdy Kroll, from New Hartford, N. Y., registered identical scores of 34-34—68 for the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

The temperature hit 95 during the afternoon and 4,500 fans swarmed over the 7,012 yard carpet stretching out over the desert sands.

Sam Snead, the big favorite from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and recent winner of the epic Masters, rounded out the first nine holes two strokes under par.

But the Slammer's iron game went to pot on the back side and he helped himself to a 39 for a one over par 73. Four bogeys marred his card on the last nine. One stroke behind the pace setting Mangrum and Kroll were three «professionals»—1953 National Amateur Champion Gene Littler, Calif., with 35-34; Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., 34-35; and Chandler Harper, last year's runnerup here from Chattanooga, Tenn., with 33-36.

Tied at 70 were Al Beaslink, Grossingers, N. Y., who won this tournament last year; Doug Ford and Cary Middlecoff, both from Kiamnesia Lake, N. Y., and E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Ardmore, Okla.

Nine pros shot under par for the round, the same number as a year ago.

New Three-Team Little League To Operate In Slate Belt Area

Roseto—In a reorganization meeting held Wednesday night at the Marconi Social Club, a three-team Little League was instituted. The league includes two teams from Roseto and one from East Bangor.

League officers elected at the meeting were Samuel Spagnola, of Roseto, president; Jesse Evans, East Bangor, vice president; Merlin Oyer, East Bangor, secretary, and Martin DeFranco, Roseto, treasurer.

George Giacinto, head of the Roseto Community Board of Trade, was named league contact man.

Babe Ruth Circuit Plans For Campaign

George Metropoulos, Stroudsburg High, and Mike Jacobella, East Stroudsburg High, were named player agents for their respective schools for the Babe Ruth Little League of the Stroudsburgs last night, during the course of regularly scheduled meeting.

The meeting took place at Shawnee dormitory, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and three teams were represented.

Representatives
Teams in attendance and representatives present were Tom Bonser and Bill Palmer, International Baldy Works; Bill Reaser, Worthington Mower, and John Schenover and Louis Leffler, Line Material.

It was also pointed out at the gathering that Barrett was uncertain about fielding a team this season. The other starter of a certain calibre is Monroe Silk, even though the club wasn't represented last night.

Any boy between the ages of 13 and 15 inclusive must sign with either Metropoulos or Jacobella before next Wednesday. Another league meeting is set for next Thursday. Boys born prior to August 1, 1941, or after August 1, 1938 are eligible.

Carter Stops Slaughter

Newark, N. J. (AP)—Harold Carter, 188, Linden, stopped Bobby Slaughter, 179½, Philadelphia, in 2:30 of the seventh round of a scheduled feature eight-round bout at Laurel Garden last night.

Little League To Feature Baseball Clinic

A baseball clinic will be held for members of the East Stroudsburg Little League four days next week, it was revealed last night by Dr. Evan C. Reese, president of the circuit.

The clinic idea, presented by Mike Jacobella, will be carried out by the four East Stroudsburg High coaches. The group includes Jack Kist, Dick Forster, Del Davis, and Jacobella. Managers of the various teams will also assist.

Sessions
Clinic sessions will begin at 6 p. m. Monday, at East Stroudsburg Playground, and will carry through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Reese also announced last night that 123 boys have signed up for the East Stroudsburg Little League during the past two days.

Record Major Banquet Draws Large Crowd

Anatomink—One of the largest crowds to ever attend a Record Major League bowling banquet was on hand at the annual post-season dinner Wednesday night, at Penn Hills Lodge. A total of 80 people attended.

Mel Dunn was elected president for the 1954-1955 campaign and Walter Straub was named vice president. Ralph "Pete" Arnold was reelected to his ninth straight term as secretary-treasurer.

Trophy

Community Bar, the 1953-1954 champion, received the Daily Record Trophy. Al Andrews won the achievement award and a total of $504 worth of cash prizes was presented.

Cal Counterman, well known in Monroe County bowling circles, served as toastmaster and introduced all team captains and sponsors.

Bob Kloess, sponsor of the winning Community Bar team, spoke briefly.

A chicken dinner was served.

Orioles Tame Indians, 4-1

Baltimore (AP)—Duane Pillette, lanky right-hander, settled down after the first inning and gave the Cleveland Indians only five hits yesterday for his second straight Baltimore Oriole victory, 4-1.

The Orioles gave him a three-run cushion in the first inning when the first four batters shelled Mike Garcia from the mound with consecutive singles and three runs.

Relief

Art Houtteman turned in a yeoman relief job by holding the Orioles to four hits and an eighth inning run after that. But his mates could do nothing with Pillette, who has given only 11 hits and three runs in his first two starts of 1954.

Owner Of Cards Defends Slaughter Deal

St. Louis (AP)—The faithful of the St. Louis Cardinals who still are tearing their hair over the Enos Slaughter deal were assured yesterday that—honest and truly—there was no hidden reason for the trade.

The furore touched off here by the surprising trade that sent the old war horse to the Yankees continues in full swing.

And August A. Busch, the Cardinals' brewer president, is concerned about suggestions, both numerous and bitter, that there was something mysterious about the deal.

Demands

Why, the fans have been demanding, should the veteran 37-year-old outfielder be swapped for four minor league players, three of them unnamed?

Busch broke his silence yesterday in a letter to the Globe-Democrat.

"I don't know that anything I might say could make Enos' friends feel any better, but I assure them that there is nothing hidden from them," Busch wrote.

"The reasons I have given are the only ones and there is nothing mysterious about them."

The reasons Busch gave in a formal statement at the time of the trade April 11 were, briefly, these: The Cardinals are trying to build a young ball club and with several promising rookie outfielders knocking at the door, room had to be made for them.

Rumor

Perhaps the most widespread rumor stemming from the trade was that actually it was part of the deal that brought pitcher Vic Raschi to the Cards from the Yankees two months ago. This previously was denied by the Cardinal management.

In his letter, Busch cited as typical of complaints by many fans a letter signed by a "Hot Cardinal Fan," who asked for "the story behind the Enos Slaughter deal."

If Busch is building a young ball club, the fan asked, why did he pay out an estimated $75,000 in cash in the deal that brought the 35-year-old Raschi to St. Louis?

Said Busch: "We are doing what we think is best for the team. I know other people might make different decisions. Only time will determine whether our judgement was good or bad in this case."

Stroudsburg Cagers Lose Financially

Stroudsburg High School suffered a loss of $310.77 during the basketball season recently completed, it was revealed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Athletic Association at the W. Main St. school.

A budget of $2,057.28 was drawn up for next basketball season.

According to the statement issued by Serfass, the big item on next season's expense agenda is transportation. This item will reportedly cost $485, which includes both senior and junior high athletes.

Officials, for both senior and junior high games will run approximately $432 for the campaign.

New equipment is listed at $375.72. Medical service will run $135 according to the statement and faculty help at the various games will cost the association $114. Police protection is set at $120.

Medical supplies are listed at $90.56, while cleaning and reconditioning will run $50. Scranton Central's annual visit to the Stroudsburg court brings about a guarantee of $50, while expenses at clinics, various awards, film and printing of tickets will run $30 for each item. Insurance will run $25, as will the estimated cost of scouting opposing teams.

A miscellaneous fund of $50 has also been set aside.

Francis' Pro Hopes Dashed

New York (AP)—The National Basketball Association's directors ruled yesterday that "Bevo" Francis, high-scoring Rio Grande college star, will not be eligible for pro basketball for two more years.

Situation

Since Francis was in his sophomore year at Rio Grande, he cannot go on the draft list until 1956. Some NBA coaches expressed the opinion that the decision was unfortunate, since they didn't think "Bevo" was experienced enough for their league.

The NBA directors also awarded the annual East-West all star game to Madison Square Garden.
